Tunisia Bombing Debated by French Chiefs

Premier Gaillard OKs Full Parliamentary Airing of Hot Issue

PARIS (AP)—Premier Felix Gaillard agreed to immediate parliamentary debate today on the French bombing of a Tunisian frontier village.

The bombing on Saturday set off a diplomatic crisis for France which threatened relations with Tunisia and sparked worldwide criticism of French policy.

Tunisia said 68 persons were killed, 10 were missing and 84 wounded in the raid.

Tension mounted in Tunisia, where French troops have been confined to their bases by order of President Habib Bourguiba who was determined that French troops must be evacuated from his country.

The French National Assembly was packed and the diplomatic galleries full as Gaillard strode to the rostrum and announced he would meet his critics head on. The Assembly suspended for an hour to allow the orators to organize their debates.

The premier has been deeply disturbed by the unfavorable foreign reaction, particularly in the United States and among France's Western allies.

HE HAS BEEN in almost continual meetings with his ministers, deputies in the assembly, diplomats and others. He has conferred with U. S. Ambassador Amory Houghton.

In Tunis, Western sources were openly worried at the turn of events there. Five French consulates were ordered closed.

The French charge d'affaires in Tunis went to the Tunisian Foreign Ministry this morning to ask if the French troops in the country could transport food between their bases. The Tunisians told him: "Let them eat in France."

Cabinet ministers leaving a three-hour special meeting gave no indication what Gaillard might say in reply to his critics which might justify the bombing attack.

Some newspapers and officials suggested a possible explanation was that the attack by 25 warplanes was an "unauthorized action" by military leaders in Algeria who failed to clear it with the government in Paris.

Rightist military men and right-wing politicians in France have long favored a tough policy against both Algerian rebels and their sources of arms and other support. The rebels have shown renewed strength lately, some French say because of aid received through Tunisia.

The French claim the attack was directed against Algerian rebels hiding in Tunisia and firing at French planes from across the border.

Rightists tended to support the attack as justified to protect French soldiers in Algeria. But many independents and leftists in Parliament criticized the raid.

GAILLARD, an economic expert projected into a grave diplomatic problem threatening relations with NATO allies and the Arab world, brought home Algerian Minister Robert Lacoste to report to the government.

Gaillard faces a hard choice. A reprimand to the army or Lacoste would bring rightist accusations that he was weakening French forces in their three-year-old fight against the rebels.

But if Gaillard failed to make some dramatic move against those responsible for the raid, he risked a further deterioration of France's international position and alienation of what friends the West still has in North Africa.

City, Utility Argue About Power Bills

COLUMBUS (AP)—The city of Massillon and Ohio Edison Co. are arguing again over who should pay for lighting Massillon's streets.

The company appealed Monday from a Dec. 16, 1957, city ordinance. If the city decides not to pay its street-lighting bills, the ordinance passes the cost on to residential and commercial users.

Ohio Edison doesn't think that is fair and told the Utilities Commission so.

The commission previously threw out a somewhat similar case. That case was based on a resolution which, the commission decided, was not a rate-fixing ordinance.

Ohio To Remain In Frigid Zone

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Frigid temperatures prevailed over Ohio again today and no immediate relief is in sight.

The U. S. Weather Bureau at Columbus said there would be no sudden break in the cold spell, but temperatures would moderate a degree or two each day for the remainder of the week.

The normal temperature range for this time of year is 18 to 38 degrees, the bureau said. But there is little hope that daytime temperatures will creep above freezing before Saturday.

Lowest reported temperature in the state today was at the Canton-Akron Airport where the mercury fell to one above zero. Zanesville, Findlay and Youngstown each reported readings of 2 above.

High temperatures today will still be well below freezing. The predicted high for Columbus is 21, Cincinnati 22, Cleveland 14, Dayton 19 and Toledo 15.

THE ARCTIC AIR, which has kept temperatures near zero for almost a week in some northern sections of the nation, remained stationary today. The huge mass of cold air also held fast across the country's eastern half except in

Sister, 18, Adopts 6 Younger Girls

LEWISTON, Idaho (AP)—A new life for six little orphan girls who will be mothered from now on by their 18-year-old married sister was rapidly settling into a routine today.

Mrs. Leoná Moore, who was granted custody of the children, arranged for Linda, 12, Julie, 10, and Toni, 9, to enter the Webster Elementary School this morning.

The other little girls—Kristie, 6, Nola, 3, and Viola, 2—were just stay-at-homes in the modest two-bedroom house in which the family will live until larger quarters are available.

The little girls were orphaned last month when their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Larsen of Pine Creek, Idaho, were killed in a highway crash.

French Report Killing 100 Rebels in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—The French today announced they killed 100 rebels and captured large quantities of arms and ammunition in two clashes in eastern Algeria.

The clashes occurred late Sunday night and Monday. The French said one of the rebel bands was intercepted near Khenchela just after it crossed the border from Tunisia into Algeria.

The blond six-footer from the Bronx was squeezed Sunday into a 3-by-5-foot experimental sealed cabin, quickly dubbed a space barrel, at nearby Randolph Air Force Base.

Space medical experts at the base's School of Aviation Medicine expect Farrell to crawl from the cabin at 9:35 a.m. next Sunday unharmed by the seven days in a make-believe space ship. "Very bright and chipper" was the way Lt. Col. George R. Steinkamp, chief of space medicine, reported Farrell's condition. "At this point I see no reason why he should not last the full seven days."

Steinkamp described how Farrell spends his time in the hermetically sealed cabin. He sees and hears nothing on the outside. All instructions are relayed to him by a closed-circuit television hookup or by prearranged signals on a panel of switches.

He said Farrell has "work southern parts of Texas and most of Florida.

More snow and ice hit many sections. A near blizzard pounded western New York Monday as other upstate areas battled to dig out from snowdrifts which measured up to 15 feet.

More snow fell in the Great Lakes region and was expected to continue during the day. An additional 4 inches fell at Traverse City, Mich., atop the 11 inches which was on the ground.

Snow and sleet pelted areas as far south as Mississippi.

Northern Lights Present Colorful Show across Ohio

One of the most brilliant displays of the aurora borealis, or "northern lights" seen here in recent years, occurred Monday night, starting about 8 p. m. and lasting until nearly dawn.

Part of the time the huge fingers of white light, sometimes tinged with pink, or greenish blue, came out of the dark mass near the northern horizon, and reached to the zenith of the heavens.

These fan-shaped fingers came and went in one display after another, and many Fayette County residents watched in awe as the mysterious lights flashed across the heavens from the top of the world.

The northern lights always interfere with radio and television reception, and frequently disrupt wiretapper service, as they affect the magnetic veil which surrounds the earth as well as connects with the earth.

After two days with the mercury submerging under the 5 degree mark, all reports indicate that the shiverin' isn't due to vacate the area for at least two more days.

Residents of Fayette County can count themselves lucky, weather-wise, on one count, however—their snowfall doesn't compare with the white blanket which has descended on northeastern Ohio.

Ice skating temperatures will continue to hover around the zero mark until the last of the week, when some snowfall is expected here. Weekend readings will be sub-normal, also.

The low temperature Tuesday night will range from zero to eight degrees. Tuesday's maximum was not expected to top the 25 degree mark. Mercury dropped to 1 above Sunday night and 4 above Monday night.

NEAR 4.5 MILLION JOBLESS

January Jump Said Highest Since War 2

Capitol Hill Sounds New Demand for Fast Action To Curb Slump

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment jumped by 1,120,000 last month to a total of 4,494,000. It was the biggest monthly rise since World War II.

Reporting this today, the Commerce and Labor Departments said the increase was about twice the normal seasonal rise which occurs in the post-holiday lull. The jump reflected a further large drop in factory employment.

Total employment fell by 2,158,000 to a level of 62,238,000 also a steeper-than-usual decline.

The monthly report disclosed also that the average work week declined to 38.7 hours last month, an hour and a half shorter than a year ago.

Because of this cut in the hours of work, the average weekly earnings of factory workers dropped by $1.47 from December to January. At $81.27, earnings were $1.14 lower than a year ago.

A CENSUS BUREAU official at first said the spurt in unemployment may have been the largest on record. He added, however, that he was unable immediately to locate comparable figures for the early years of the big depression which started in 1929. In any event, he said, the jump was the biggest for any month since World War II.

It compares with a drop of nearly one million from December to January in the 1953-54 business recession and a sag of about 900,000 in the same months of the 1949-50 recession.

The government report reflected the extent of the current business slump and came amid demands from Capitol Hill for faster action to boost the nation's economy.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) predicted in advance that the Commerce Department report would list 4½ million unemployed for January, and he called this too short a count.

Douglas said the report traditionally does not include the number of workers whose working hours and pay checks have been reduced by declining production volume. He predicted a Senate-House Economic Committee analysis will show this could be translated as equivalent to at least another million unemployed, "counting two men working a half day each as equivalent to one man unemployed for one day."

President Eisenhower met privately with four of the government officials most directly concerned with the economy.

HE MADE NO announcement of what he had discussed with Secretary of the Treasury Anderson, Chairman William M. Martin of the Federal Reserve Board, Chairman Raymond Saulnier of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, and Dr. Gabriel Hauge, Eisenhower's personal economic adviser.

The White House meeting came on the heels of a request from the Economic Committee for a report by Monday on what new steps the administration may be planning to check the business downturn and get more men and women back to work.

The committee's chairman, Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), has accused the administration of failing to move as effectively as he says it should to attack the slump.

Douglas, contending "the danger point in the recession has been reached" and that it could slip into a full-scale depression, introduced a bill to speed up the periods of about four hours that might be compared with standing a shift at the controls of a space ship. He has a rubber mattress he can inflate and stretch out on during a specified sleeping period. Otherwise he must sit almost bolt upright.

However, it is not all work and sleep. There are "rest periods" during which he reads, including two textbooks on accounting and English grammar. In these periods he also listens to hi-fi record music piped into the cell—mostly George Gershwin and Cole Porter selections that he picked before the "trip" started.

The scientists figure it would not be impossible for space travelers to hear radio music broadcast from the earth, or maybe from a space station relay point.

Farrell follows a master menu that Steinkamp said was "high in protein and highly nutritious." It does not consist entirely of condensed or dehydrated foods. He had an orange with his breakfast.

To test Farrell's reactions from day to day an alarm signal may be sounded during any of his rest periods. He is expected to respond and take over the controls of the make-believe space ship as soon as possible.

State Board OKs New Holland Transfer To Fayette County Miami Trace District

The State Board of Education overrode a recommendation by Ohio's superintendent of public instruction Monday afternoon and voted to transfer the New Holland School District to Fayette County's Miami Trace District.

The decision, by a 17-4 vote vote, was greeted with cheers and applause by nearly 100 New Hollanders who crowded into the small Department of Education hearing room in the State Office Building.

The State Board action was taken on a petition signed by 440 residents electors of the New Holland District—representing 93 per cent of those eligible to sign.

The Pickaway board placed New Holland in the newly created Westfall District after New Holland had requested the transfer to Miami Trace.

The matter now goes back to the Pickaway board which has 30 days in which to approve. The transfer petition then will be placed before the Fayette County Board of Education for acceptance or rejection.

There appears to be little likelihood that the Fayette County board will turn down the New Holland request since 70 per cent of the former New Holland District and 25 per cent of the village itself is within Fayette County.

Feet Cold? Here's Expert Tootsie Advice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The current cold wave is taking its greatest toll below the ankles, says the American Foot Care Institute, Inc.

Here's what the institute suggests:

1. Bathe your feet alternately with hot and cold water after your bath or shower. This stimulates blood circulation.
2. Wear closed shoes.
3. Men should wear two pairs of thin socks instead of one heavy pair. The space between will help retain body warmth.
4. Women, prone to cling to nylons, can rub lanolin or baby oil into the skin to prevent chapping.
5. Exercise feet by wriggling the toes and rotating the feet from the ankles.
6. Stay indoors if you can.

But if you think all this is too stiff, take this tip from Detroit: Despite 13-degree temperatures, Bill Wiercinski, 44, took a three-minute swim in the ice-choked Detroit River. "It's the best way I know to prevent colds," he said.

Ohio Methodists Set New Goals

COLUMBUS (AP)—Some 1,000 ministers and laymen of the Ohio Methodist Conference, Monday adopted a program calling for far-reaching changes in the program of the denomination.

The adopted report of the Ohio Area Study Committee, headed by Dr. Edwin H. Dickey of Wilmington, chairman, and Dr. Clarence LaRue of Columbus, director, said that since 1940 the Methodist denomination has not been keeping pace in growth with the increase in the state's population.

It called for a statewide evangelistic campaign for the enlistment of 9,000 new Methodist members a year and the establishment of 75 new churches in ten years.

HERE IS Sheriff Hays' recounting of McCray's confession: "He said he left Talladega, Ala., about the first of July and headed for Cincinnati. He can't read or write, except to sign his name, and I don't think he can read a calendar, so I guess that's why he's not sure of the date."

"Anyhow, he said he came here to rob—and that when he robbed, he always killed."

"He travelled by bus to Cincinnati, and he hitchhiked from there. He said he got a ride from Cincinnati here with a white man about 45 in a 1951 Chevrolet, who turned off the highway about a mile south of Washington C. H."

"After he passed through Washington C. H., he got onto the CCC Highway headed north and hitchhiked again. He got a ride this time with a younger man in a 1950 Chevy, who turned off about a mile north of here."

"He said he walked on from there to a white house with a green roof."

"We showed him pictures of three houses and he picked the right one."

"We asked him if he remembered anything strange about the highway, and he said there was construction going on all the way up."

a conference committee made their recommendations in line with previously established criteria, but it indicated that an exception should be made in the New Holland case because 93 per cent of the voters had expressed themselves for the transfer.

Pickaway County Superintendent George McDowell and John Jenkins, Columbus, the Pickaway board attorney, spoke against the transfer to Miami Trace.

The State Board also approved the transfer of the former Wayne Township Local District from the Westfall District to Circleville and a part of the former Washington Township District from the new Logan Elm District to Circleville.

Red Chinese Change Bosses

Chou Quitting Post As Foreign Minister

HONG KONG (AP)—Peiping radio announced today that Chou En-lai has been "relieved" as Communist China's foreign minister on his own recommendation. The broadcast said he retained his post as premier.

Vice Premier Chen Yi was appointed to succeed Chou as foreign minister. The actions were taken at a plenary session of the National People's Congress, which began meeting in the Red Chinese capital Monday.

Chen Yi has been a rising star in the Peiping hierarchy since 1955.

The 3rd Field Army of which he is marshal was first over the Yangtze River and first into Shanghai during the Red conquest which drove Chiang Kai-shek to Formosa. For awhile he was shunted into relative obscurity as military mayor of Shanghai, then in 1955 was named a vice premier under Chou.

In April 1956 he was named head of a new national anti-literacy association, assigned to step up the lagging campaign to teach China's 400 million illiterates to read and write.

A SHORT, round-faced, fat man in his mid-50s, Chen is an "Old Revolutionary," with a record of Communist service extending back to before the Long March of the 1930s.

He made his debut on the international scene in the summer of 1955, when he accompanied Chou to the Asian-African conference in Bandung as Peiping's second delegate.

Chou, long-time comrade in arms of Red China's boss Mao Tse-tung, has been premier and minister since 1949, after the Communists' final victory over Chiang's Nationalist forces.

Congressmen Buck Benson, Seek To Block Dairy Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation aimed at putting more money in the pockets of the dairy farmer is getting serious consideration in the House Agriculture Committee.

The office of Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) predicted today that some sort of bill to accomplish this has a good chance of getting through this Congress.

One measure, applying to dairy farmers everywhere, would stop Secretary of Agriculture Benson from cutting the support price on milk for manufacturers April 1.

The present price on this kind of milk (sold for the manufacture of canned milk, cheese and other processed items) is about $3.25 a hundredweight.

Unless Congress acts, Benson plans to cut this to $3.03.

There is considerable bipartisan sentiment in Congress against such a cut.

AS AN EXAMPLE, Rep. Polk (D-Ohio), has a bill in the hopper that would increase this support price from $3.25 to $3.50.

Foreign Students At AAUW Meet

Impressions of U. S.
Given by Panel

Members of the Washington C. H. branch of the American Assn. of University Women were given some first-hand impressions of America by three foreign students at Central College near Xenia who formed an information panel at Monday night's meeting.

The group also were told something of the life, customs and religious in India, Egypt and Ghana, a little country in southern Africa.

The three students—Eddie Solomon Ayensu from Ghana, Chandray Singh from India and Mosvab Shah of Egypt—were brought here by Mrs. Dorothy Zieger of the Central College faculty. Mrs. Zieger acted as the moderator.

None of the students had been in the United States more than a year, but all spoke English fluently, although with some accent. They all could speak several languages—Ayensu said he spoke seven.

Each, under questioning by the moderator, gave the background of his own country and their religions.

IN THE GENERAL questioning by AAUW members that followed, they agreed that among the things they like in America are modern appliances, automobiles and trucks the highways and the educational system for everyone.

They said they were surprised by the racial discrimination they had encountered, although they did not appear particularly resentful.

All said their countries want peace, that they hope for personal, religious and political independence, that they feel Red China should be admitted to the United Nations and that they are opposed to guided missiles and related machines of destruction.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Dick Junk on the CCC Highway.

In order to devote more time to the panel discussion, business was held to a minimum, with the president, Mrs. Colin C. Campbell, presiding.

The program was arranged by the international study group headed by Mrs. Loren Hynes. Other members are Mrs. Arnold Grillo, Mrs. Harry Craig, Mrs. Ruth Rider and Mrs. Donis D. Patterson.

3 Teenagers Are Picked Up For Break-ins

Three Bloomingburg teenagers, all of them under 16, were picked up Monday night in connection with two break-ins at the Bloomingburg School and another at Grim's Store in Bloomingburg.

Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson, who picked up one of the three "on a tip" and the other two on the first one's confession, said they admitted breaking into the school Sunday and Monday afternoons and stealing pencils, first aid kits, tape, food, and small kitchen utensils.

They rifled desks but got only about $2 in change, Thompson estimated. Juvenile Court authorities released them to the custody of their parents, pending a hearing later.

The "tip", Thompson said, came while he was on another investigation in the area last week.

Break-ins at the school were made through a fire escape door. The break-in at Grim's took place Jan. 25, just after Deputy Thompson had ordered the place closed when he broke up a poker game there. Ice cream and other grocery items were taken, Thompson said.

BOTH EISENHOWER and Secretary Anderson have said the administration may consider cutting taxes if business conditions get worse, but both predict improvement by midyear.

Douglas serves on the Economic Committee, which wound up hearings on the President's economic report well agreed at the final hearing that an upturn may be farther away than the administration has predicted.

Douglas told the Senate "I strongly suspect" the administration will propose a cut in the income taxes of corporations and upper income groups.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Esther M. Brown

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Esther Mary Brown, 74, native of Bloomingburg and society editor of the Washington C. H. Record-Republican from 1913 to 1917.

Mrs. Brown, the widow of Charles A. Brown died last Tuesday in Marion where she had gone in 1955 to make her home with her brother, J. E. Eggleston.

She had been in failing health since 1954.

At one time she was society editor of the Uniontown, Pa., Herald and from 1932 to 1942 she was associated with the Eggleston Hatchery at Kingfisher, Okla.

Born Jan. 23, 1884, at Bloomingburg she was a daughter of Lafayette and Carrie Eggleston.

She was a member of the Reformed Church, and of Rebekah Lodge 6 at Kingfisher and of the Quota Club and of Eastern Star Lodge at Uniontown.

Surviving are her brother and her sister, Mrs. Amy McConnell of Marion, who is seriously ill.

Funeral services were conducted Friday in the Crous Memorial Lutheran Church at Tiro. Burial was in Tiro.

Fred B. McLean

Fred B. McLean, 82, of Lincoln, Ill., a native of Washington C. H., died suddenly in the Morrison Hotel in Chicago Monday evening, relatives here were notified Tuesday morning.

Mr. McLean spent his early life here, but had lived in Lincoln and Chicago for many years. He was a graduate of Washington C. H. High School and attended Ohio University.

His father, James McLean, was the first elected county engineer in Fayette County.

Mrs. McLean preceded him in death, but he is survived by a sister, Mrs. William H. Riddle Sr. of London; two nieces, Mrs. Katherine Fox of Washington C. H. and Mrs. Hildreth Hume of London and two nephews, Charles A. Fabb of the Chillicothe Rd. and William Riddle Jr. of London.

Services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Thursday in the Gerschner Funeral Home here by the Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Henry Manbeavers

Henry Manbeavers, who would have been 93 years old had he lived one more day, died at 3 p. m. Monday at his home in New Holland. He had been ill for only three months.

He was born in Madison County, near White Oak, but had lived in New Holland for 45 years, where he had a small grocery store, which he ran until a few weeks before his death.

He was married in 1888 to Emilda Dawson, who died in 1920. They had 10 children, four of whom survive, Mrs. Garnet Schraffe and Mrs. Hazel Rohrer, both of New Holland, Mrs. Clara Davis of Circleville and Doyle Manbeavers of Chillicothe. He also leaves 25 grandchildren, 35 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

In 1940, he was married to Grace Blanton, who survives.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home in New Holland by the Rev. Arthur George. Burial will be in the New Holland Cemetery.

Friends may call any time at the funeral home.

JOHN GOODRICH—Services for John Goodrich, who died suddenly Sunday evening at his home in Sabina, were held at 1 p. m. Monday in the Littleton Funeral Home by the Rev. Charles Kirsch, pastor of the Sabina Methodist Church.

Palbearers were Homer Fannon, Earl Custer, LeRoy Stewart, John Reno, Russell Morris, Ballard Burton and Dr. Charles Rhoads.

Burial was in the Willard, Ohio, Cemetery.

ORLAND SNIDER—Services for Orland Snider of Columbus, who died in White Cross Hospital Thursday night, were held at 1:30 p. m. Monday in the Gerschner Funeral Home by the Rev. Bert O'Conner, pastor of the Bloomingburg Methodist Church.

Palbearers for the burial in the Bloomingburg Cemetery were Milbourne Flee, Earl Haggard, Richard Whiteside, Robert Dennis, William Noble and Ted Boldman.

Opinion Is Given On Spray Damage

COLUMBUS (AP)—Attorney General William Saxbe ruled today that county commissioners are not liable for damage to growing crops from poison sprays used to destroy weeds along highways. The question was raised by Summer J. Walters, prosecuting attorney of Van Wert County.

In a second ruling, Saxbe said that a deputy sheriff may not serve also as a jury commissioner. And in a third ruling, Saxbe said Ohio law requires that the consolidation of two adjoining local school districts in separate counties requires the approval of both counties.

New Holland Transfer

terests are in the direction of Washington C. H.;

The Washington C. H. Record-Herald has a circulation among 201 subscribers in the territory where as the Circleville paper has 30 subscribers in the area;

Miami Trace School District plan for a new high school are more definite and more nearly consummated than those in Westfall District;

Telephone communications to Fayette County without toll. There is toll charge to Westfall and to Circleville.

OBJECTIONS to proposed transfer registered by Pickaway County Board of Education were these:

New Holland District is considered an essential part of the Pickaway County School system and to release the territory would disrupt the present consolidation plans of the county board of education and would adversely affect the strength of the Pickaway County School District;

The Pickaway County Board of Education has studied the problems of consolidation for many years, has had a survey made by Dr. William Chase of Ohio University and has followed his general recommendations;

The Pickaway County Board of Education has attempted to create school districts which meet the criteria established by the State Board of Education for permanent school centers.

The territory in the New Holland District has been satisfactorily serviced by the Pickaway County School system for over 40 years. During all of this time the New Holland District had shown no desire to be transferred to or combined with Fayette County School Districts until after plans were in process for a combination in Pickaway County;

A fine educational program is planned for the new Westfall District. It is backed by an evaluation of $27,557.68 and an enrollment of 1,917 pupils with 470 in high school. The educational program of the Miami Trace District has been delayed by repeated court actions;

The Pickaway County board is interested in a broad educational program for all of the boys and girls in the county district and does not believe that special privileges should be granted to a few pupils at the expense of others.

DR. HOLT'S report disclosed that both Miami Trace and Westfall districts provide a program of instruction in grades 1-12 inclusive, and that while New Holland District as it previously existed did not meet the standards for a permanent high school center, both Miami Trace and the new Westfall district adequately meet these criteria. The Westfall district also includes Darby, Wayne, Perry, Monroe, Muhlenberg, Deer Creek and Jackson districts.

Regularity of boundary lines would not be affected by the proposed transfer. Proposed sites for new high schools in the two districts would be approximately equidistant from New Holland.

The per pupil valuation is fairly comparable (New Holland—$10.21; Westfall—$14.375; Miami Trace—$15.500).

IN A BRIEF submitted by the New Holland petitioners, the state superintendent's recommendation was termed a "gross injustice." It was further pointed out that he did not attend a hearing on the matter before a conference committee on Jan. 17. The brief was based on this conference.

First petitions requesting the transfer were filed with the Pickaway County Board on Oct. 23. On Nov. 6, the board denied the petition without, according to the brief, giving the petitioners an opportunity to be heard. On that same night the Pickaway Board consolidated the New Holland District into the new Westfall District.

A court action by the New Holland petitioners followed, restraining the Westfall board from dealing with the assets and property of the New Holland District. A restraining order still stands.

The brief develops New Holland's ties with Washington C. H., pointing out that while the larger part of the village is in Pickaway County, Washington C. H. (10 miles away as compared with the 18 miles to Circleville) is the village's natural trading center.

"Power and light, livestock sales, merchants supporting school publications, fuel, milk, groceries auto parts, farm supplies and other necessities gravitate New Hollanders to Washington C. H."

THE BRIEF points out that the site for the new Miami Trace High School is "in the center of New Holland's business and social life"

Cattle Average $464 At Four-Star Sale

The 71 registered Hereford cattle sold at auction in the Four Star Hereford sale at the Fairground pavilion here Monday brought an average of $464 each.

The 19 bulls averaged $776 and the 52 heifers averaged $349.

The top bull, consigned by the Bea - Mar Farm, brought $3,410 on a bid by Alva Riley of London.

The top female, also consigned by Bea - Mar, went to Alfred Hulme & Son of Piqua for $950.

Cattle offered in the sale were from the Bea - Mar Farm and Arthur Scott & Ted Kneisley Farm in Fayette County, the Circle A Farm at Morris, Ill., and the BB Hereford Farm at Wheelersburg, Ohio.

Scm B. Marting of Bea - Mar said the sale was "very good" but added that the cold weather put a considerable crimp in the crowd that had been expected.

Most of the cattle went to bidders from Ohio, although breeders were there from Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois.

A. W. Hamilton of Lewisburg, W. Va., and Emerson Marting, CCC Highway, were the auctioneers.

door and that she came to answer. Then he said he forced her back into the house, they scuffled in the living room, and then finally he carried her up the stairs.

"He said he tied her to the bed—he couldn't remember what with, and that he searched for money. He found some under the rug, in the pillowcase and in two purses—about $250 in all."

"We showed him a picture of one of the purses, photographed where he had left it, lying on a bed. He identified the location, and recalled there was another lying beside it that wasn't in the picture."

"After he killed her, he said he went out of the house and walked up the road 60 or 70 feet—I don't think he knows the difference between a foot and a yard—and caught a bus for Columbus."

"He said he bought some clothes in Columbus, then climbed on a bus and went back to Talladega, arriving there before July 4."

and that Miami Trace has approved a building bond issue and an operating levy, while no site has been chosen for a Westfall District school.

"The curriculum in Fayette County is set, with special emphasis on vocational agriculture, the life blood of New Holland's people," the brief said.

Both Miami Trace and Westfall districts would benefit in per-pupil support under the transfer plan, the brief stated, while, tax-wise, neither district would suffer.

It was further pointed out that New Holland was one of the few districts supporting a Pickaway County consolidation move in 1955—a plan defeated 2 to 1. Subsequently, the brief said, New Holland attempted to persuade the neighboring community of Atlanta to consolidate with it, but this move was turned down.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

Ousted FCC Probe Counsel Is Summoned as Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Bernard Schwartz, fired as counsel to a special House investigating committee, went before his erstwhile employers today with a staggering armload of documents.

Schwartz was subpoenaed as a witness in the committee's investigation of federal regulatory agencies and instructed to bring all his personal files.

"Compared to this kangaroo committee, the star chamber itself was the very paragon of justice," Schwartz said angrily.

"I have been denied basic procedural rights which would be accorded to the most blatant criminal."

The committee's 7-4 vote to fire Schwartz, a New York University law professor, from his $14,000-a-year job had left an explosive atmosphere.

Chairman Moulder (D-Mo) announced that he was quitting as head of the dissension-torn investigation.

TWO LAWYERS resigned from the staff. They are Herbert M. Wachtell and Paul Berger, both of New York. They had come to Washington to assist Schwartz.

The committee has four other lawyers and three investigators on its staff.

The investigating group is technically a subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee, and Chairman Harris (D-Ark) of the parent committee called the subcommittee into closed session. Moulder was present. Moulder had told reporters he would continue to serve, although resigning as its chairman.

Harris told newsmen as the meeting was about to open that he had not yet actually received Moulder's resignation, but "I received it through the press."

Schwartz, his voice at times shaking with emotion, came down a hallway to the committee room heading off procession of staff members loaded with investigative files.

"I was served with a subpoena at 12:35 a. m. to appear with my files," he said to reporters.

"I spent most of the night trying to seek counsel."

Schwartz said that he had succeeded in obtaining George Arnold and Wachtell, the man who resigned from the subcommittee staff, to represent him.

Schwartz contends he was fired because he was digging up evidence that numerous pressures, some even from the White House, have been exerted on quasijudicial agencies such as the Federal Communications Commission.

A majority of the committee said it objected to tactics used by Schwartz. There were questions raised too about some of his expensive accounts.

British, Greeks Open Talks about Cyprus

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—The foreign ministers of Britain and Greece launched secret talks today on the future of Cyprus.

Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and Greece's Evangelos Averoff met at the Greek foreign ministry building. They were accompanied by Cyprus Governor Sir Hugh Foot and other Greek and British officials. The talks are expected to last until Thursday.

Stock Mart Prices Show Some Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Scattered gains gave an irregular stock market a slightly higher tendency early this afternoon, trading was moderate.

Key stocks showed fractional changes, seldom approaching a point on either side.

A few so-called secondary issues showed a bit more vigor but the usual market leaders moved narrowly.

The market was fairly active in a mixed opening. Then trading slowed until the second hour when there was a slight pickup with some improvement in prices.

Economic news remained ragged and economic forecasts were contradictory. A government report that unemployment had a huge jump of 1,120,000 in January brought no immediate reaction.

A lower dividend by the Rock Island Railroad was followed by a 1-point drop in its stock. Meanwhile, badly battered New Haven Railroad common advanced about a point as proxy fight talk continued.

Parke, Davis jumped well over a point as the drug firm announced a big boost in earnings for 1947.

Among the "bigger" issues, Du Pont was off about a point. Small losses were taken by Bethlehem, Kennecott, Union Carbide, International Telephone, International Paper, Chesapeake & Ohio and Royal Dutch.

Fractional gains were posted by Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Phelps Dodge, American Smelting, Allied Chemical, General Electric and Air Reduction.

U. S. government bonds were firm.

Ohio-Born Admiral Plans to Retire

Next on TV: 'New' Western

This Type Tagged
As 'Modern' Variety

NEW YORK (AP)—Oliver Treyz, vice president in charge of the ABC television network, says ABC will launch a new type of show this year which he expects will develop into a TV trend: "the modern Western."

ABC was the first to introduce and develop the "adult" Westerns which now are so popular on all three networks.

"The Western trend certainly is not riding out," Treyz said in an interview. "But I don't see any big expansion in Westerns this year and I don't think that they represent the bulk of our programming."

Treyz said that the newest thing in entertainment programming on ABC will be "a type of action show set in current times. It will involve strong stories and strong heroes and contemporary situations."

"They will have the quality of feature motion pictures and deal in shades of gray—as Maverick does—rather than in black and white. And by 'Western' I mean a good man and a bad man and a chase."

Warner Brothers will produce the filmed programs, which will be introduced on the network next fall.

A primary programming philosophy of ABC this year, said Treyz, will be to "schedule programs of news and such programs as Bold Journey and Voice of Firestone in prime viewing times. Our criterion is balanced programming for the entire public in prime viewing hours rather than in fringe time."

As an example, Treyz said it is planned to schedule John Daly's news program at 10:30 p.m., EST, on week-days—an hour when the television audience is largest—rather than at 7:15 p.m. when he currently appears. Some time this spring Daly also will do a special one-hour documentary in prime evening viewing hours.

Cincy Industrialist Leaves $4,121,974

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tunis V. DuBois, who died Nov. 23, left an estate valued at $4,121,974, it was shown in an inventory filed in probate court here.

DuBois was the head of DuBois Co., Inc., manufacturers of cleaning and processing compounds.

DuBois' will directed that the bulk of the estate go into a trust fund with the widow, Mrs. Anna DuBois, to receive two-thirds of the income from the fund and a son, Charles, to receive the other one-third of the income.

The gnawing teeth of beavers keep growing year after year and this persistent growth takes care of the wear on the teeth.

Aides from Churches Here Plan World Day of Prayer

Arrangements for observance of the World Day of Prayer here Feb. 21 are beginning to take form today.

Preliminary planning was completed at a meeting in Grace Methodist Church Friday by representatives of seven of the Protestant churches; this meeting was open, however, to all Protestant churches in the community.

Grace Church will be the host for the observance this year, which will be held at 3 p. m. Feb. 21. Details for this service are being worked out under the guidance of the Women's Society for Christian Service of Grace Church. Mrs. John Weade, as president of the WSCS, is also chairman of the World Day of Prayer coordinating committee.

The purpose of the World Day of Prayer, which is observed by Protestant churches around the world, is "to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer and to make an offering for Christian missions at home and abroad."

After last Friday's meeting this statement was released: "The World Day of Prayer invites all nations to go up to the House of the Lord to learn of His ways and pray for His guidance. Let us keep the date of Feb. 21 and let

City Manager James F. Parkinson of Washington C. H. has officially proclaimed Feb. 21 as World Day of Prayer. It follows:

PROCLAMATION

"Whereas, World Day of Prayer will be observed this year in many places throughout the world where humble peoples, living against a background of universal tension and uncertainty, will bow their heads and lift up their hearts to Almighty God in prayer; and

"Whereas, The Church Women of Washington C. H. will join on this occasion with the church women in communities throughout the nation and the world to form an articulate and inspiring chain of human prayer; and

"Whereas, The troubled peoples in less fortunate nations than ours, and indeed, even in our own beloved country, need Divine Guidance as never before, especially as this is stimulated through prayerful communion,

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, JAMES F. PARKINSON, CITY MANAGER OF WASHINGTON C. H., OHIO, do hereby proclaim:

Feb. 21

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

and I urge our citizens to observe this day by attending the Grace Methodist Church, World Day of Prayer services on Feb. 21, at 2 p. m., or by pausing for a minute of prayer at high noon to ask God to give us, in all our humility, the wisdom and courage to meet and successfully solve the profound problems of our times."

We May Feel Easier But Not Complacent

Apparently there is a little less public hysteria now following the recent successful launching of this country's satellite the "Explorer" and the promise of other such launchings soon.

Even the second failure of the "Vanguard" to perform as expected, has not lessened the enthusiasm or the confidence in the belief that the nation will before long again be in the lead in these launchings into outer space.

There was a lot of tension relieved here as well as in Western Europe and among other free nations of the world. They needed this psychological lift to feel less fear of a lack of scientific capabilities on our part to show we will eventually outdo the Russians.

It would seem that the United States and its allies now have reason to breathe easier, but there is no reason for us to start becoming complacent.

The launching of a satellite is only the first milestone in our march back into public prestige and confidence among people of the free world. If we relax and rest on this one laurel, we're heading for more trouble.

Looking back over the long ordeal, one can uncover all kinds of villains. Naturally there are questions as to why the Army was held back so long when it was chafing to give its Jupiter - C a try.

However little will be accomplished by trying to pin the blame on any person or persons, even though there is reason for believing that the command decision to trying to pin the blame on any person or persons, even though there is reason for believing that the command decision to separate the military and scientific components was a mistake. The great challenge now is to gather strength from our success and move ahead.

Lady Banker Is Optimistic

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — If you can trust the feminine intuition and business judgment of one of America's top women bankers, the present recession will be short-lived.

"I'd rather call it a pause, anyway, than a recession," said Mrs. Mary Roebeling, president of the Trenton, N. J., Trust Co.

"Any country with the great resources we have—and the ability of its leaders—certainly will not permit a continuation of this present pause in its expansion."

"In the long pull, we are still the greatest nation in the world."

A firm optimism and faith in a growing future are part of the life credo of this sprightly 52-year-old widow, who thinks she is no less feminine because she can handle the details of a $5 million bank loan as well as baste a roast or decorate her apartment.

"Sometimes I think an angel sits on my shoulder," she said.

"The Lord has been good to me."

Mrs. Roebeling started her business career at 20 in the statistical department of a Philadelphia brokerage firm. Soon she was selling securities herself.

When her husband—wealthy Siegfried Roebeling, member of the family that built the Brooklyn Bridge—died in 1935, she took his place as a member of the board of the Trenton Trust Co. Two years later she was elected president.

The bank then had assets of $17 million. Today it has $70 million in assets, and has climbed to a rank among the top 350 of the nation's 14,700 banks.

Mrs. Roebeling, who also is a director or trustee of 18 other corporations, was named in a recent magazine article as one of America's 10 wealthiest women.

She is reported to have an income of about $1 million a year.

Some 65 per cent of the employees in her bank are women, but Mrs. Roebeling says this figure only reflects a growing trend in the financial world.

"An increasing number of women are going into banking," she said, "because of the pleasant working conditions, the associations it brings, and because they are pre-eminently qualified for it."

"Women have the rarest commodity in the world, and one of the most valuable — common sense. I wouldn't say that men don't have it, too, but they certainly don't have a corner on the market."

Mrs. Roebeling, who reared two children, says the frustrated career woman is largely a myth. "The career women I know don't feel defeated by life," she's happy, and have happy homes. The two-paycheck family has become fashionable now."

The High Cost of Missiles

By George Sokolsky

The fact that we finally launched the army Jupiter-C does not mean that we can afford to ignore the necessity for the reorganization of the armed services and the production of military hardware to meet the necessities of the era in which we actually live.

That reorganization must continue if we are to out-balance the Russians in this particular area of our conflict with them.

In his testimony before the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, Donald Douglas Sr., made the point that in one service, it was estimated that it took 333 days "to process a facility request," which is a mighty long time for any decision. In that period, a modern war can start, can inflict its damage, and can be over.

So Edwin Weist, the committee counsel, wanted to know why it took so long and Douglas Sr., replied that there are too many people concerned in making a decision. His son, Donald Douglas Jr., then stepped in to tell his story. He said:

"Part of the problem of the facility question is that in this fast-moving missile age, when you have to get concrete emplacements and things like this and go through public works that this is another line of action, and we actually built the Thor: faster than the concrete was poured at Cape Canaveral to receive it."

In a word, there is a fast-moving weapon but a slow-moving administrative system. And the entire system of supplies, of logistics, requires modernization, Donald Douglas Jr., testified to certain advantages the Russians had and also of certain facilities that we lacked. For instance:

"... The TU-114 (Russian) is a very, very large airplane which has about twice the ton-knot productivity of the C-133 (American) and this means that it can do a lot more work at more efficient costs."

"In other words, the ton-mile costs of operation should be very low, and it seems to be quite a shame when the United States leads the world in air transportation that we should lose this leadership to the Russians."

The contracting companies, those manufacturing or organizing those manufacturing or organizing the new weapons, face enormous financial problems.

Naturally, this is a totally new product and experience in costs is limited.

It is a product which has only one customer, the government which can be arbitrary as to both the price and the method of financing. The industries invited to do the work are principally engaged in manufacturing airplanes or scientific equipment.

The government determines the price, but it leaves too little money over costs for research by the companies. Donald Douglas Sr.'s comments on this are most interesting:

"We got together with the Bell Laboratory people about a year before the Thor contract was placed, and we each spent considerable sums of money. I think something well over a million dollars on our own, and entirely speculatively, on what became the Thor..."

"We are perfectly prepared to do it if we have the money. But now because of some of the things that have happened, because of some of the findings of a renegotiation board in the last year, our company, and I am quite sure some of the other companies, are finding that they do not have as much surplus to do that sort of thing with."

What actually happens is that these private companies are asked to finance the government to a certain extent. This is a loss to the taxpayer because private companies pay more to borrow money than the government has to pay.

Ultimately this comes on the taxpayer's bill, no matter how it is arranged. The companies are generally not permitted to charge the interest to the government, but they must calculate it in the price or they would go bankrupt.

Furthermore, they have to figure that when it is all over, there will be a renegotiation in which arbitrary decisions will be made. Every government contractor must anticipate a renegotiation and works his prices accordingly.

Renegotiations are costly in time and money, because no businessman can foresee what arbitrary decisions the government might take.

All these queer business methods of the government, usually designed for political reasons, are expensive and the taxpayer pays.

OSU Area Cafe Operator Dies

COLUMBUS (AP) — Herbert W. Hennick, who operated a restaurant "hangout" for Ohio State University students for many years, is dead at 74.

Generations of students frequented the establishment located near the High Street entrance to the university. It became nationally known through the fact and fable written about it by writers James Thurber and Elliott Nugent and cartoonist Milton Caniff.

Hennick sold the restaurant in 1941 after about 30 years of operation. He died Sunday at his home in suburban Bexley.

Diet and Health Guard Against Cancer By Annual Check-up

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

EVERY year, some 230,000 Americans die of cancer. It is estimated that at least 75,000 of these victims can be saved if only they will act in time.

Many, many cases of early cancer, as I have so often pointed out, can be cured if they are discovered and treated early.

Annual Checkup

The best way I know to discover cancer early is for everyone to have a complete physical checkup at least once a year. An annual health audit is as sound, if not more so, than an annual bank audit.

Any such examination should include special care to detect signs of cancer. Cancer can attack any part of the body, so a thorough examination of every possible site is essential for early detection.

Important Steps

Here, then, is a list of 22 important steps which should be included in any head-to-toe physical examination you have. I suggest you take it along. You can then see how your doctor checks you when you go for your next physical.

1. A careful comprehensive case history.
2. Examination of the skin.
3. Examination of the eyes.
4. Examination of the aural cavity.
5. Examination of the nasal cavity.
6. Examination of the lips and mouth.
7. A careful check by the physician's trained fingers of the neck, including the thyroid gland.

8. Examination of the heart and lungs.

9. Examination of the abdomen.

10. Examination of the back, including the kidney area.

11. In the male, inspection of the external genitalia.

12. In the female, a meticulous examination of the breast.

13. In the female, inspection of the genitalia.

14. Direct visualization of the cervix by the speculum examination.

15. A routine Papanicolaou smear of the cervix.

Pelvic Exam

16. A manual pelvic examination.

17. Rectal and proctoscopic examination.

18. A neurological examination.

19. Urinalysis.

20. A complete blood count.

21. Examination of the stool for occult blood.

22. An X-ray of the chest.

These are all worthwhile life-saving tests.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

R. T.: I have been advised to have an operation for the relief of osteomyelitis. Do you think this is necessary?

Answer: If osteomyelitis is discovered early, penicillin and antibiotics will usually remedy this disorder. However, if a great amount of bone destruction has taken place, operation may be necessary.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

MIKE CONNOLLY reports that at a meeting of Commies on the West Coast, one character interrupted a solemn address to holler, "One question, Comrade Speaker, and I demand a straight answer."

When we overthrow the government, what happens to my unemployment checks?"

And after the meeting, another comrade went up to the information desk and asked, "Do you know of any accommodations where I can put up with my wife?"

It does indeed pay to advertise—as this story from Flint, Mich., emphasizes once again.

It was in Flint, in the Daily Journal for April 23, 1914, that the A.C. Spark Plug company advertised in the classified column for a bookkeeper, promising: "This is a fine opportunity for the right young man." Furthermore, "the right young man" applied for the job. His name, Harlow H. Curtice, future president of the General Motors Corp.

Jobs Available For Signalmen, Quartermasters

The Navy Department has reported an extreme shortage of enlisted personnel in the quartermaster and signalman rating. Chief Pat Waller, Navy Recruiter in Washington C. H. said.

Waller says efforts are now in process to alleviate the shortage by establishing "Fleet Schools" of six weeks' duration on both the east and west coasts. Members of seagoing units are eligible to attend these schools.

Waller states the quartermaster and signalman schools have been added to the seaman field of the Navy's high school graduate training program, if the enlistee desires to enter these fields.

Skills and knowledge acquired performing the duties of signalman are wide. They include identification and uses of visual aids to navigation, International Morse Code and identification of all signal flags and pennants used in the Navy.

Skills and knowledge acquired by a Quartermaster encompass the general knowledge of meteorology as it relates to navigation interpretation of weather charts and messages, system of time zones and care of chronometers, rules of the road, and methods of determining ships' speed and position.

Young men interested in the field of communication or navigation are offered an open field in the ratings signalman and quartermaster. Further information can be obtained from Chief Waller.

Fayette Hobbyists Will Meet Friday

Homer H. Harrison, Jefferson Township, new president of the Fayette County Hobby Club, said Tuesday that the regular meeting of the club will be held at the city building at 6:30 p. m. Friday.

The usual carry-in supper will be a feature of the meeting along with a short business session, followed by a program and a display of hobby material.

Pomona Grange Meets Next Thursday Night

A good program has been assured for the Pomona Grange meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Farm Bureau auditorium by the lecturer, Mrs. Madge Winter, but she did not disclose the details.

Hostess for this meeting will be the Fayette Grange.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Many of you older folks remember Lou A. Green, one of the most likeable and colorful residents of his day, who had quite a varied career, and who died May 12, 1937, at the age of 73 years.

I knew Lou well for years, and when I first knew him he was proprietor of the Imperial Hotel which stood on the corner of Main and East Sts., where the offices and main building of the Midland Grocery Co. are now located.

Lou had disposed of his interest in the hotel to F. J. Hays sometime before the greatest fire in the city's history—on Saturday night, Dec. 30, 1911—wiped out virtually the entire block on the west side of Main from Court to East, including the Masonic Temple, main buildings of the Dahl-Millikan Co., Imperial Hotel, Westward Block and Judy Block.

R. C. Hunt owned the hotel building and also the one occupied by the Fayette County Hardware Co. immediately north of the hotel.

During the period when Washington C. H. was a dry town, Lou issued a four-page booklet entitled "How to Get Rich in a Dry Town". Significantly there was a dolphin printed on the front cover.

The method of getting rich was fully explained in one sentence inside the folder, it read: "Work like h— and save every d— cent". I still have the copy he gave to me.

After quitting the hotel business, Lou, who had been a traveling salesman, became manager of the Chillicothe Telephone Co., and the night the March 1913, flood was at its height, I was talking to him over long distance when the dike gave way. Water started up Hickory St. in Chillicothe, and caused great damage in the town.

During the first World War Lou was sent to Puerto Rico to be an inspector on work of building a cantonment.

Upon his return he settled down here, having married in the meantime, and lived at 622 S. Fayette St. for years before his death. Mrs. Green died some two years later.

Several years before he died Lou underwent an operation which left him breathing through a tube in his throat and unable to talk, so when visitors went to see him, he handed them a slip of paper. Printed on the one he gave me was the following:

"Lou A. Green. I have traveled most of my life. Have seen all the United States and some foreign countries.

"Even been in Columbus, O.

"I stay at home now because I can't talk, but can hear what you say, and You Need Not Talk So Loud.

"Habits only fair. I smoke and can take a drink. I never swear or lie. I like the ladies but am married. I appreciate your call LOU."

It was characteristic of the man.

CHURNED WITH HAND

I have told you more than once of how little the pioneers of Fayette had to work with, and now comes one of the most unusual bits of authentic pioneer lore that I have discovered.

It was nothing more or less than a woman churning butter with her hand from cream "in a pail".

The story comes from the pen of Thomas Rogers, written in 1871 when he was about 90 years of age, and the incident occurred in his boyhood days. It was about 1796 and 1798.

He writes:

"This was an uncommon hard winter. Snow was on the ground.

"We had to cut down fresh brush every morning to keep our cattle alive. We had several milk cows but they gave but little milk as they could get no grass. When the ground was bare there was rye grass equal to a rye field. So our cattle and horses got very weak by spring.

"When the snow melted our cattle could get plenty of rye grass. They began to thrive and we got plenty of milk.

"Heretofore there was no churn to be had so what butter was made was made our good mother made it by stirring it with her hand in a pail.

"But now another family moved in and settled near us on the other side of the creek, so we could borrow their churn. Now we had butter plenty. This was a great substitute in cooking our venison and turkey meat.

"And indeed I sold many a pound to travelers after the family moved away. I was often asked where the landlady was.

"When they found I made the butter they would be very doubtful about it being clear."

GETTING ATTENTION

Little by little U. S. 35 Route is receiving some of the attention it has been needing for so, these many years.

This time the route, which is carrying more and more traffic each year, will be rebuilt for a considerable distance in Jackson and Ross counties.

The first section in Jackson County sold in December, and plans for the next section are now being formulated.

A recent State Highway Department bulletin carries the following statement regarding one of the proposals.

"On the newly proposed Ross-Jackson U. S. 35 four-lane project, south of Richmondale, it is planned to have a roadside rest in Ross County near the county line for eastbound traffic to Jackson, and a roadside rest for westbound traffic

4-H Club Activities

TRACTOR CLUB

Safety and mechanics were topics at a meeting of the tractor club held in the Farm Bureau auditorium. A total of 21 members attended.

Section A studied safety on the farm and on farm machinery. Section B studied tractor motors and wire systems. Topic for section D was the various types of nuts and bolts used in precision tractor construction.

Officers are Wayne Hagen and Warren Browder.

Dodds Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dodd, 410 E. Paint St., celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary by holding open house Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dodd were married in Greenfield on Feb. 9, 1898. They have lived in Washington C. H. for more than 50 years. Mr. Dodd was a stationary engineer and once operated a tile mill, but is now retired.

The Dodd home was beautifully decorated throughout with lovely flowers, gifts of friends and relatives. Approximately 125 friends and relatives attended the lovely event.

Tea delicacies were served from a beautifully appointed lace covered table which was centered with a lovely bouquet of spring flowers and candles.

The punch bowl was presided over by Miss Mary Sauer, Mrs. William Rogers, Mrs. James McWilliams and Mrs. Stanley Dray. Also assisting with the afternoon hospitalities were Mr. and Mrs. Dodd's only daughter, Miss Norma Dodd; Mrs. Edward Lee Carson, Mrs. Richard Carson and the Misses Carolyn and Ruth Ann Carson.

Miss Mary Louise Highfield Weds Mr. Philip L. Grover

MRS. PHILIP LLOYD GROVER

The Grace Methodist Church in Washington C. H. was the setting for the Sunday wedding of Miss Mary Louise Highfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris C. Highfield, 412 Van Deman Ave., and Mr. Philip Lloyd Grover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Grover, Route 4, Hillsboro.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. J. Poe at 3:30 p. m.

A half hour of traditional nuptial music, preceding the ceremony, was presented by Miss Marian Christopher, organist, and Mrs. John Rhoads, soloist.

The altar was beautifully decorated with palms and fern, vases of white snapdragons, feather pom poms and red carnations, and candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her organzine gown fashioned with a V-neckline enhanced with point d'esprit lace, fitted basque bodice, long graceful sleeves that formed calla points over the hands and a bouffant skirt that cascaded over a Dior hoop and was accented with motifs of point d'esprit lace and a back pouffing and terminated in a chapel train. Her matching taffeta crown edged with seed pearls held her fingertip veil of imported silk English illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of Frenched carnations, lilies of the valley and crimson rosebuds, and was centered with a white orchid.

Miss Kay Minshall was maid of honor and Mrs. Robert Highfield, sister-in-law of the bride, was bride's matron. The bridesmaids were Miss Jean Grover and Miss Janet Grover, sisters of the groom. They wore identical red taffeta gowns designed with a bateau neckline that extended into a deep back V, brief sleeves and extremely bouffant skirts accented with red velvet cummerbunds. They wore matching red taffeta half pill box hats with circular veils and red satin shoes.

The Sunny East Home Demonstration Club met in the Farm Bureau auditorium, with the Washington Home Makers Club members as guests, for a combined potluck supper Monday night.

Mrs. Howard Thompson and Mrs. Arthur Herboltzheim were the hostesses and Mrs. Ralph Brown was the assisting hostess.

The table was beautifully decorated and centered with a lovely arrangement of red and white carnations, a heart shaped cake and candles.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Harry Naylor.

Both clubs held a separate business meeting. The Sunny East Club's business session was conducted by Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, president. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Clyde Palmer on March 3.

The business session of the Washington Home Makers Club was conducted by Mrs. Carey Daugherty, president. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. T. N. Willis, 725 N. North St., on Feb. 27.

Entertainment for the evening was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, who showed colored slides on their trip to Africa.

Children Enjoy Valentine Party

The dining room of St. Colman's Church was the scene Saturday of a lovely Valentine party for the younger children of Gamma CCL members.

Valentine games were enjoyed by the young group and each received a gay colored hat and horn which added much to the afternoon festivities.

Dainty refreshments were served from long tables centered with large red hearts.

As the small guests left the party, each received a Valentine box of candy.

The committee for the enjoyable affair consisted of Mrs. J. O. Garlinger, Mrs. Irwin Reeves, Mrs. Paul Crosby, Mrs. Leonard Essman and Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee.

Small guests attending were Greg Barger, Debbie and Mike Domenico, Susan and Chris Essman, Gaye Lynn and Jackie Flax, Marcia Garringer, Mary Lee Glover, Ricky Johnson, Sue Ellen and Jill Leggett, Vickie Sue Lowe, Teresa and Mary Ann Marchant, Harold Richard, Joyce, Bobby and Cathy Reeves, Jeffery and Julie Thompson, Connie Sue Weeks, Joellen White, Tova Woodmansee, and Brad and Beth Crosby.

Miss Evalynn Lloyd Is Bride Of Mr. Fredrick Ray Edgar

MRS. FREDRICK RAY EDGAR

The marriage of Miss Evalynn Lloyd, sister-in-law of the bride as Elsie Lloyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lloyd, 1437 Seventh St. Santa Monica, Calif., to Mr. Fredrick Ray Edgar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Edgar, 389 W. "H" St., Colton, Calif., took place at 4 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 1, in the First Methodist Church, Santa Monica.

The Lloyds were former residents of Washington C. H., and have many friends and relatives here.

Dr. Kenneth A. Carlson officiated at the rites attend by 300 friends and relatives.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a bouffant skirt and white satin cummerbund which featured long satin streamers. Her fingertip illusion veil was attached to a Juliet cap edged with seed pearls. She carried gardenias and stephanotis, and completing her ensemble was the pearl necklace and matching earrings, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Barbara Moore, served as maid of honor and Mrs. David T.

Candlelighters for the ceremony were Miss Kathy Sterry and Mrs. Stephen Lloyd.

For the reception, held in the church parlor, the bride's mother wore a tailored full skirted gown of dove grey organza with matching satin trim and black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

Mrs. Edgar was attired in a dark blue frock with a corsage of pink roses.

Assisting at the reception were Miss Dena Garges, Mrs. Frank Boggs, Mrs. Kenneth Lippencott,

Too Many Hands in Uncle's Pocket Keeping Him Broke

Editor's Note: Following is the first in a series of articles in which a leading member of the Senate Finance Committee, John J. Williams of Delaware, tells frankly why Uncle Sam, with the world's largest income, is always broke.

By DEANE and DAVID HELLER
Central Press Correspondents
WASHINGTON — Why is Uncle Sam, with the world's largest income, always broke and hopelessly in debt?
Can our new missiles program be financed without a rise in our already backbreaking taxes?
As America struggles to recapture the scientific and missiles lead from Russia, our nation's financial health is a matter of the gravest concern. What's wrong with our government's spending programs? Where can we cut down? Is the taxpayer ever going to get a break?

To get authoritative answers to these and other questions, we went to one of the nation's most respected fiscal experts, United States Senator John J. Williams of Delaware, a long-time member of the Senate finance committee. Senator Williams is a rarity among politicians. Ask him a tough question and he gives you a blunt, honest answer.

"The main reason the government is always in financial trouble," he told us, "is that everybody has his hand in Uncle Sam's pocket—and that includes you and me. I'm not trying to point the finger of scorn at anybody."

"However, think of this: government subsidies cover almost everything; the highways we ride on, the minerals we mine, the crops our farmers grow, the hot lunches our children eat at school. "Veterans, government employees, foreign nations, mail users, airlines, shipping companies and 10,000 more—literally—are collecting expensive government subsidies. Trying to fill the Treasury with tax dollars is like trying to fill a bucket which has millions of leaks, some tiny and some shockingly large."

Senator Williams, you'll recall, is the lawmaker who a few years back exposed the scandals in the Internal Revenue service in a sensational, one-man investigation that forced from office all five of the highest tax collecting officials in the United States. (Three of them were convicted and sent to prison.) Senator Williams' exposé caused hundreds of Internal Revenue employees to be dismissed for bribery, corruption or inefficiency.

That's one investigation that didn't cost us taxpayers a dime. The senator paid the costs involved out of his own pocket.

Senator Williams is perhaps the only man in the Senate who reads

(and enjoys) the ponderous, telephone book-sized reports that government agencies make to Congress and the President.

For years Williams did the book-keeping for his own successful grain and feed business. Mathematics was his favorite school subject. He can look at a staggeringly involved financial report and quickly spot the one phony item it contains.

Many a steal and plenty of shenanigans have been stopped by his eagle eye. Scores of times, he has been the only member of Congress to spot the multi-million dollar rabbit in many an innocent-looking bill.

Digging behind routine-seeming bills and reports, the senator has exposed many a giveaway—like the phony "national defense" stockpiling of certain minerals, which would have cost the taxpayers $767 million; incredible ship sales by the government (97 per cent off).

Then there was the case of the smart but unscrupulous civil servant who found a loophole in the federal retirement law, drew out all he had contributed, $8,911.23, moved to another government job for 60 days, paid in $63 and immediately became eligible for a yearly pension of $2,748 for life!

Small potatoes, of course, but it could open the door to more of the same. More substantial are the conflicting egg programs of the federal government. At a cost of $50 million, these cancel each other out. (One branch was eagerly buying surplus eggs.)

The spending of tens of hundreds of millions by the Corps of Engineers to improve the "navigation" of countless little creeks that are not now and never could be made navigable—things like these keep the government—and the taxpayer—broke.

"Can the missiles program be paid for without a rise in taxes?" grins Senator Williams. "Of course it can—provided that all of us take our hands out of Uncle Sam's pocket."

"Let's take a look at some of the hands and see how much they're getting away with."

26 Needy School Districts Get $5.8 Million in Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-six of Ohio's neediest school districts were given top priority in the distribution of $5,865,156 in state school funds, the State Board of Education announced Monday.

E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, who recommended the priority list, said the $5,865,156 total is based on needs for the enrollment as of an Oct. 18, 1957, cut-off date for applications.

This might be increased another 1.5 million dollars when the needs are based on the projected enrollment as of October, 1959, he added.

As of last October, the districts building needs totaled $15,036,737. The balance of the needed funds will have to be raised locally, the board stated.

The state money will come from a 10 million dollar allocation authorized by last Legislature.

Forty-nine other school districts applied for state funds, but failed to get on the priority list. Holt said the requests totaled about 45 million dollars.

The 26 priority school districts are (with counties in parentheses): Hannan Trace (Gallia), Triad (Champaign), Symms Valley (Lawrence), Southwestern (Gallia), Goshen (Clermont), Madison (Butler), Spencer Sharpels (Lucas), Marion (Mercer), Perry (Allen), Columbia (Lorain), Aurora (Portage), Southern (Meigs), West Clermont (Clermont), Kenston (Geauga), Easter (Brown), Western (Pike), Monroe (Monroe), Bryant (Lawrence), Springfield Lakeland (Harrison), Dawson Bryant (Lawrence), Springfield Highland (Medina), Talmadge (Lucas), Etratsboro (Portage), Highland (Medina), Talmadge (city district in Summit County), Brunswick (Medina), Northmont (Montgomery) and Amherst (exempted village district in Lorain County).

In other business, the board: Approved consolidation of Stanton Local High School and Stanton local district in Jefferson County, and Utica High School and North Fork local district in Licking County.

Approved transfer of three of seven small tracts in Mohawk local school district, Wyandot County to Seneca County school district. The board denied the transfer of the other four tracts.

Disapproved transfer of two overlapping territories from Fairfield-New Waterford district in Columbiana County. One section would have gone to Columbia school district, the other to Leontia local district. The board also recommended the suspension of Neil Schleicher's teaching certificate. The board said that Schleicher, former Columbus teacher, had pleaded guilty to criminal assault of an East High School student and is in Mansfield Reformatory.

Georgia Woman Gets Pen Term

DECATUR, Ga. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Burton, seated in a wheel chair with her eyes closed, drew a 2 to 5 year prison term Monday for taking $186,000 from a medical clinic.

The gray-haired 51-year-old divorcee gave no sign that she heard as Judge Clarence Vaughn passed sentence in DeKalb Superior Court. She came here for sentencing from Grady Hospital in Atlanta, where she had been under observation over the weekend.

Mrs. Burton was convicted of taking the $186,000 from the Decatur Clinic during two and a half years as business manager.

Pope Says Church Approves Science

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII told a group of American Fulbright students that "faith does not fear reason" and "dogma does not fear scientific research."

The 81-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church urged the students to devote themselves to their studies and to strive to improve the state of the world.

The church, he said, is "a friend and a supporter of every truth. She does not impose chains upon the liberty of anyone who honestly seeks to discover truth that is still hidden in the secrets of nature."

Wheeling College Lab Being Used by Firm

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Ormet Corp. has started using laboratory facilities at Wheeling College to train technicians for its new plant and to analyze raw materials being stockpiled at the plant site.

The Ormet plant is under construction between Clarksburg and Hannibal, Ohio. When completed, it will become a primary aluminum producer for the joint owners of Ormet, Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. and Revere Copper and Brass, Inc.

4th Stringer Is Cage Hero For Massillon

Middletown Still Rides Top of Heap in Ohio Basketball Voting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Paul Gerber, fourth center for Massillon's oft-beaten Tigers, had his night of glory Friday.

Paul, son of a minister, is a junior at Tigertown. He doesn't play much with the varsity, which went into Friday's game with arch-rival Canton McKinley—the state's ninth-ranked team—with a 7-7 record.

McKinley had beaten the Tigers 66-57 on Massillon's floor last night. But this time they battled on even terms through the regulation game, and dashed into overtime at the Canton field house.

Young Gerber, with two Massillon centers sidelined by fouls and the third by injury, went in with a minute to go in the regulation game. He was limping, because he had forgotten to take his shoes along, not expecting to suit up for the varsity fray. He wears size 14s, but the best the host Bulldogs could lend him were No. 12s.

Paul didn't contribute much in the last minute, or in the first overtime period. But with a minute and 40 seconds gone in the sudden death phase, he suddenly found a rebound in his hands, lapped high and dunked the ball into the basket while falling backward.

It gave Massillon a 63-61 conquest, first over the Bulldogs at Canton since 1932, and dropped McKinley from the top 10 in the weekly Associated Press poll. McKinley's record is 13-3.

Gerber, despite his few playing minutes, has made "em count. He has taken five shots this season, and he's scored 10 points. His only comment, as his mates carried him from the floor, was:

"Boy, do these shoes pinch my feet!"

MIDDLETOWN IN Class AA and Glenford in Class A, continued to ride the top spot in the weekly poll of sports writers.

Middletown made it 68 games in a row, 16 this season, by dunking Hamilton 89-67 at Cincinnati Gardens before 10,886 fans Friday night.

It was Hamilton's second loss, both to the two-time champion Middies, and the attendance jumped the two-game gate to 24,035. Jerry Lucas, the phenomenal Middletown point-getter, scored 34 points to raise his 16-game total to 498 and his 68-game career total to 2,156.

The defeat didn't hurt Hamilton too much, the Big Blue dropping from fourth to sixth in the ratings. As Canton McKinley dropped to 11th, unbeaten Cincinnati St. Xavier moved into the 10th spot, its first appearance among the elite.

Some 2,000 tickets for the general public will go on sale, by mail only, for the state high school finals, at midnight Friday. The games are scheduled March 21-22 at Ohio State's St. John Arena. Season tickets for all games will be sold and, with only 2,000 available, it means only one of each 5,000 residents of the state will get one.

Commissioner H. W. Emswiler said orders must be postmarked after 12:01 a.m. Saturday, must not exceed four tickets per order, a $6 per ticket payment must be enclosed, along with a self-addressed, stamped return envelope.

Orders must be marked "season ticket order" on the envelope, and mailed to the Ohio High School Athletic Assn., 4164 N. High St., Columbus 14, Ohio. Drawings for mail orders will be made Feb. 27, after which any single tickets available will be placed on sale.

The Class A teams are involved in county tournaments this week and next, trimming the huge field of 646 to 224 for the sectionals starting Feb. 24. The 387 Class AA teams go into sectional play the last week of this month, but have some regular season chores to finish before then.

Here is how Ohio's sports editors rank the top teams of the state in Class A and Class AA basketball. Shown are first place votes in parentheses, total poll points on a 10-9-8-etc basis and won-lost records of the leaders.

Franklin Heights Added to Enlarged SCO League

Lions Meet Logan in 1958 Grid Opener

The Washington C. H. High School Lions will open their football season in 1958 on Sept. 12 at Logan with the Chieftains—and this is just the first indication of the changes that have been made in the gridiron picture here.

Most important of all, of course, is the expansion of the Southcentral Ohio (SCO) League to six teams, with Franklin Heights making its debut.

Franklin Heights, a new school in suburban Columbus, was added to the circuit two years ago, after Washington C. H. had all but joined another loop comprised of teams in the Columbus area.

The expansion of the SCO, Athletic Director Fred Domenico explained, was considered essential to book a full schedule of games. Now in the SCO are the old rivals—Wilmington, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Circleville and Washington

C. H.—and the newcomer, Franklin Heights. Officials of the schools have expressed the hope that a couple more can be added to the league in the not too distant future.

THREE OTHER relative strangers are on the Lion schedule along with Logan. The season's second game will bring the boys from Grove City here on Sept. 19. Then after a game at Hillsboro, the Little Miami and Zanesville Roscrans teams will come here. Parents' Night will be held at the Little Miami game, and the Homecoming will be the next Friday night when Zanesville's team is here.

The season will open with a four-team preview on Sept. 5 and the curtain will be run down with an Alumni benefit game on Nov. 14. Four of the five old SCO teams will meet in the preview at Gardner Park. Greenfield and Hillsboro will meet in the first quarter game and Wilmington and Washington C. H. in the second. The losers will play the third period and the winners the fourth. Each "game" will last eight minutes. Circleville will not participate.

Preview expenses are calculated to run around $200. Tickets will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students (advance sale only). The net proceeds will be divided among the four schools, with Washington C. H. getting 31 per cent and the other three 23 per cent each.

The schedule for the following year, 1959, is very much the same as that for this year. It will open with a preview and close with an Alumni benefit game. It also includes return games with three of this year's four newcomers: Grove City, Logan and Zanesville. There is one open date—Oct. 9.

Little Miami has been guaranteed $200 for the game here and Logan and Zanesville $100 each. The Lions have no return game with Little Miami, but are guaranteed $100 when they go to Logan

(this year) and to Zanesville (next year).

All other games are a flat home and home guarantee of $50, estimated at just about enough to cover expenses. This $50 guarantee has been in effect in the SCO for some time.

Here is the 1958 schedule:
Sept. 5 — Preview
Sept. 12 — Logan here
Sept. 19 — Grove City here
Sept. 27 — Hillsboro here
Oct. 3 — Little Miami here
Oct. 10 — Zanesville here
Oct. 17 — Wilmington here
Oct. 24 — Greenfield here
Oct. 31 — Franklin here
Nov. 7 — Circleville here
Nov. 14 — Alumni game

The schedule for 1959 is:
Sept. 11 — Preview
Sept. 18 — Logan here
Sept. 25 — Grove City here
Oct. 2 — Hillsboro here
Oct. 9 — Open (Homecoming)
Oct. 16 — Zanesville here
Oct. 23 — Wilmington here
Oct. 30 — Greenfield here
Nov. 6 — Franklin here
Nov. 13 — Circleville here
Nov. 20 — Alumni game

Kansas State Now Voted as Top U.S. Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Kansas State Wildcats accomplished three things when they knocked off Kansas University 79-75 in their important Big Eight basketball game last week.

They showed that Kansas could be beaten with Wilt Chamberlain in the lineup, they tightened their grasp on the conference lead and they gave college basketball a new national leader for the first time since early in the season.

Kansas State edged out West Virginia today in the weekly Associated Press ranking poll of sports writers. The Mountaineers led all but the first two polls this season.

West Virginia appeared first on 45 of 108 ballots, Kansas State on only 32. But the votes for second, third and fourth, previously scattered over a wide range swing to the Wildcats. The point totals came out Kansas State 878, West Virginia 865.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for each first-place vote, 9

Cincinnati Man Admits Knifing

CINCINNATI (AP) — Harry Roberts, 21, who police say admitted knifing a Xavier University student in a brawl, has been charged with cutting with intent to kill.

His brothers, Paul, 19, and Jackson, 23, were charged with assault and battery stemming from the same fight. Police of nearby Norwood filed the charges Monday.

The student, Edward Davis, 18, Erie, Pa., recovering from abdominal wounds, said he was set upon without cause early Saturday.

Spring of '58 Awaited with Eagerness

Business, Government Seeking Answer to Length of Slump

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Seldom has spring been awaited more eagerly than today. Its advent some six weeks from now has been set as the informal deadline for many business and government decisions.

Spring is billed as the time we'll know whether the slow decline in the number of jobs will be halted—and, if not, whether a tax cut and perhaps a public works program will be tried to start a recovery in industry.

All hands seem resigned to several more weeks of cold, dreary weather and of equally cold and dreary economic statistics. But hopes are high, even in the stock market, for spring's changing all that.

The taxpayer and the job hunter aren't the only ones waiting for the spring deadline.

Auto makers, discouraged by slow sales of the new models, are now pinning their hopes on spring bringing a revival of the old American habit of flocking to dealers' show rooms when the weather warms and the roads are cleared and beckoning.

For the last few years this old custom was shelved. Motorists did their looking and buying when the new models came out in the fall. A return to the spring shopping habits could lift a lot of the gloom from Detroit.

Oilmen are rejoicing in the cold weather that lowers the supplies of fuel oil in home and factory tanks. But they, too, are looking for spring to get the motorists back on the road and thus perhaps end the price cutting that has sprung from the glut of gasoline in the storage tanks.

The tire men are hoping that the first spring Sunday drive will leave many motorists to replace worn tires—business in Akron has slowed down in sympathy with production in Detroit.

Home builders are particularly anxious for the ground to thaw. Hopes are high for a plentiful supply of cheaper mortgage funds. And with building costs apparently leveling off, contractors believe the return of the home seekers in numbers is just around the spring corner.

Retailers are praying for a return of the buying yen to consumers who have turned a little cautious in recent weeks while they waited to see just how much of a recession were entering. Merchants are reported holding down their spring and summer orders but ready to move quickly if the approach of Easter (two weeks earlier this year than last) rekindles the buying spree of a year or so ago.

About then, too, owners of summer resorts will start to get the answer to their present doubt: was the skinny winter resort business this year the result of unusually cold weather or the result of the recession's chill hand on the free spenders?

Almost all of the notes in the spring song that businessmen and government officials are practicing are sweet ones — whether real hopes or wishful thinking.

But there are few sour ones. One is that in late spring some labor dispute may begin to sizzle. Negotiations will be starting in the auto industry, with considerable fears now that a strike could be brewed.

Another note is that automatic wage increases coming up may keep the price spiral rising even if the recession points the other way.

And there are the overtones of the arms race with all it could imply for the world.

Big Ten's Big Puzzle: Which Team Is Leading

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The old "Who's on first" gag has a new twist in the Big Ten basketball race. Now it's who's in first?

Michigan State and Indiana are tied for first at the moment but how long that'll last is anybody's guess.

Minnesota knocked Michigan out of the top spot Monday night with an 80-69 lashing while Michigan State defeated Iowa, 90-84, and Indiana downed Wisconsin, 93-87. Illinois routed Purdue, 99-84, and Northwestern edged Ohio State, 78-76.

Every home team was victorious except Wisconsin's Badgers who slid into a last place tie with Illinois. However, Illinois and Wisconsin—both 3-5—are only two games behind MSU and Indiana who have 5-3 records.

In between, the teams are locked tighter than a Scotchman's purse strings. Michigan (4-3) is third with Purdue (5-4) fourth. Iowa (4-4) and Ohio State (5-5) are tied for fifth with Northwestern (4-5) and Minnesota (4-5) tied for seventh.

Great balanced scoring helped Michigan State beat the Hawkeyes. Larry Hedden scored 27 points, John Green had 26 and Jack Quiggle added 25. MSU led all the way and was in front, 44-40 at halftime.

Iowa Coach Bucky O'Connor said after the game:

"MSU's overall team speed and balance was just too much for us. Particularly Green's speed around the boards."

Forddy Anderson of Michigan State said "I was real pleased by our terrific balanced scoring. We made mistakes too but were able to recover from them."

Dave Gunther of Iowa led all scorers with 30 points but didn't get enough help from his teammates.

Indiana rallied in the closing minutes to beat Wisconsin after the Badgers had led most of the way. Trailing 47-45 at halftime, the Hoosiers went ahead 80-79 with 4 1/2 minutes left and added to their margin rapidly.

Archie Dees paced the Indiana attack with 30 points, but Bob Litzow of Wisconsin

City Teachers Have Dinner

Program by Students Marks Get-Together

The city teachers met in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church parish hall Monday night for a dinner.

The invocation was given by Mr. Arthur Engle.

Superintendent W. A. Smith, introduced two new teachers in the system, Miss Loraine Landry, sixth grade in the Christian Church, and Mrs. Thelma Fisher, the fifth grade in the Christian Church.

Principal Earl Miller of the Cherry Hill School and president of the City Teachers Assn., thanked the social and program committees for their work in planning the get-together, Mrs. Jerry Grundies for art work, Mrs. George Pensyl and Mrs. L. F. Everhart for the music, and Mrs. Robert Hagerty and Grover Baber, who had charge of the program for the evening.

Miller also urged the teachers to sell tickets for the George Washington Ball, sponsored by the city teachers, to be held in the high school gym on Feb. 22.

STUDENTS from Mrs. Hagerty's drama class and Baber's music classes presented the program. Students participating were Dick Willis, with a solo, "Shenadoah," Jane Davis, pantomime from "Oklahoma," Barbara Rose, song from "Oklahoma," Ann Johnson and Mike Chakeres, vocal duet, from "Showboat," Barbara Cutlip, pantomime, "I've Got a Crow," Barbara Rose and Dick Willis, duet, "Symphony," Ann Johnson, solo, from "Carousel," Jane Davis and Ron Coffman, pantomime, "Dear John and Marcia," and Sylvia Lee, solo, from "Porgy and Bess."

The social committee for the event included Mrs. Grace Iden, chairman, Mrs. Wilma Allen, Mrs. Priscilla White, Miss Jane Trent, Mrs. Edna Watts, Mrs. Louise Townsend, Mr. Harry Townsend, Miss Marian Christopher, Mr. Dennis Leggett, Mrs. Ruth Hopkins, Mr. J. M. York.

The program committee consisted of Miss Ruth Stecher, chairman, Miss Jane Durant, Mrs. Louella Campbell, Mrs. Mary Gillespie, Miss Lenore Young, Mr. Clyde Cramer, Mr. Donald Moore, Mr. Jack White, Mr. James Stroud and Miss Katherine Hackett.

Witness, 16, Shuns Threat, Tells Story

NEW YORK (AP)—A mailed death threat failed to deter 16-year-old Roger McShane from clinging to testimony that might send seven youths to the electric chair.

The slender, dark-haired boy, subjected to hammering cross-examination Monday, once more detailed the events of the night of last July 30 when his friend Michael Farmer, 15, was murdered.

Twenty-seven defense attorneys are fighting to save seven youthful defendants, charged with the murder, from the chair. They can have another go at McShane today when he returns to the stand.

The witness has identified six of the seven accused as having been at the murder scene, a park in upper Manhattan. McShane was stabbed twice in the chest, but testimony on this is not admissible because the specific charge, first-degree murder, covers only the assault on Farmer.

Police are inclined to the theory that the death threat received Saturday by McShane was the work of a young crackpot.

It was also disclosed that McShane was threatened in a school yard last November, more than three months after the Farmer boy, too crippled by polio to run away like McShane finally did, was murdered.

Raymond E. Grim Is Fined $50 on Gambling Charge

Changing his plea from not guilty to guilty, Raymond E. Grim, 26, proprietor of Grim's Store in Bloomingburg, was fined $50 and costs for permitting gambling in a place of business by Judge Max G. Dice in Municipal Court Monday.

Grim, who lives at 605 Fourth St., Washington C. H., was also sentenced to 10 days in jail. But the jail sentence was suspended on condition of good behavior.

Grim was arrested Jan. 25 when Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson broke up a poker game in the back room of his store.

A sum of $16.40 confiscated at the time of the raid, was turned over to the Youth Fund of the Fraternal Order of Police.

U. S. Industry Seeking New Edison Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Is there a budding Thomas A. Edison in the chemistry lab at your school?

If so, U. S. industry makes a bid to discover the potential science wizard today on the 11th anniversary of the great inventor's birth.

More than 245 major corporations, many of them electric utilities, have arranged for junior and high school students in 45 states to tour their plants and research laboratories.

This is the second annual Science Youth Day, being staged by the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation of New York.

Walker L. Cislser, president of Detroit Edison Co., Detroit, Mich., is chairman of Science Youth Day. Charles F. Kettering, famed automotive inventor, is honorary chairman.

Edison was born Feb. 11, 1847, in Milan, Ohio, in a brick cottage which still stands. He died Oct. 18, 1931, in Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N. J.

His 1,100 patents and 2,500 notebooks tell the dramatic story of such inventions as the phonograph, moving pictures, storage battery, incandescent and fluorescent lamps, and the fluoroscope.

Ohio Boy, 2, Loses Eye to Surgery

NEW YORK (AP)—Doctors removed the right eye of two-year-old Roy Eugene Nickell, of Excello, Ohio, Monday because of a rare, nonmalignant tumor.

After the operation at the Eye Institute of Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center, doctors said the boy's condition was good.

Medical and travel expenses are being met by the American Cancer Society and a fund raised by civic associations and individual contributions in Excello, nearby Middletown and other parts of Southwestern Ohio.

Training Planned By 4-H Advisors

Homemaking Projects Tour Also Arranged

Plans for a couple of special training classes and a tour to see projects in the making were made by the 4-H homemaking club advisors when they met Monday evening in the Extension Service office here as a committee of the 4-H Council.

A cotton dress making school for advisors was set for April and May. It will be open to all advisors and its purpose is to teach the latest construction methods, which they will pass along to 4-H club girls.

A series of Saturday morning classes in tailoring also was arranged for April and May. It will be for both the advisors and the girls in 4-H clubs who have tailored garments for their projects this year.

The tour will be held the last week in June for girls enrolled in the "4-H Club Girl and Her Home" program who have home furnishings projects. The tour will take the girls to the rooms in the homes of girls in which they carried out their projects.

Council decided to have signups for demonstrations to be given at the Fair. The demonstrations will be signed up at the time of judging so that a schedule may be made up before the Fair.

The group decided to continue the Fair booth policy set up last year by the 4-H Council, using the annual 4-H theme.

The following dates were noted: Feb. 26, advisors recruitment meeting for all 4-H advisors and prospective advisors; Mar. 4, Nutrition training meeting for 4-H homemaking advisors and March 11 clothing training meeting.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Walter Carman, president.

Cancer Expert Sees Link to Cigarettes

KENT (AP)—An official of the American Cancer Society says there is a definite association between the smoking of tobacco and a mysterious "X" factor that currently is doubling the lung cancer death rate in this country.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, director of statistical research for the society's medical affairs department, discussed a new system of study inaugurated by the American Cancer Society in 1952. The study enrolled 188,000 men between the ages of 50 and 69 years and covered a period of 44 months.

He said the men who had never smoked had the lowest death rate. The death rate among smokers was proportionately higher, depending on the number of packs of cigarettes smoked daily. He attributed the low death rate among pipe and cigar smokers to the fact that "hardly any cigar or pipe smoker inhales."

The doctor, speaking Monday night to faculty members of Kent State University who are members of Sigma XI, national science research honorary, said the results cannot be accepted as conclusive without actual medical experiments on human beings.

Prospective Election Officials Here To Attend Conference

Prospective new members of the Fayette County Board of Elections are expected to go to Wilmington Feb. 19 to attend a conference at the General Denver Hotel at 2 p. m. called by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

Election board members will attend from Adams, Butler, Brown, Clermont, Clinton, Fayette, Greene, Hamilton, Highland, Montgomery, Preble and Warren counties.

To save travel expense, Secy.

Brown has scheduled seven such area conferences, covering the entire state. He will appoint a total of 176 members of these county boards who are endorsed by Republican and Democratic county committees. Announcements of official appointments are expected to be made.

Those persons who have been recommended for appointment to county boards of elections, especially those who have not served before, will be personally interviewed by Secy. Brown and briefed on the important functions of their office.

Other February conferences will be held in Findlay, Canton, McConnelsville, Chillicothe and Columbus. A similar one was held in Cleveland, Feb. 11.

Right To Work Move Backed By C. of C. Here

A resolution to support a move to put the "right to work" amendment to the state constitution on the November ballot was passed by the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce board of directors at their meeting Monday night.

William Stoughton, Chamber manager, told the board that all Ohio Chamber of Commerce are backing the movement to the amendment proposal before the people for a vote.

The board, by its action Monday night, now is co-operating with the Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce, which previously had taken a stand in favor of submitting the amendment proposal to a vote.

The "right to work" amendment would prohibit compulsory membership in any organization as a condition of employment, or continuing employment. The Chamber will join in the circulation of an initiative petition for submission of the amendment to the people. A committee of three will be appointed by President Walter Morrow of the C. of C. to work and cooperate with all interested organizations in setting up a "right to work" organization in Fayette County.

In other action, the board approved a proposal to cooperate with the city schools in setting up an economic workshop for teachers.

Manager Stoughton reported that Walter Morrow, a member of the Route 35 assn., attended the meeting of the association in Gallopis Feb. 6. He said Morrow learned that construction is underway on an 11-mile section of Route 35 from Richmondale to Jackson, and that plans are being made to continue improvement of the highway.

Tentative plans were discussed for the program of the annual Chamber of Commerce meeting to be held in June.

Several Sacks Slit At Berry Seed Co.

Vandals—possibly youngsters—slit open several sacks of seed at the Berry Seed Co. warehouse, 203 S. Hinde St., some time between Feb. 5 and 10, police said.

Everett Milstead, manager, said burglars had broken into the warehouse while it was unattended.

New Bishop Being Honored

Columbus Diocese Hails Isenmann

COLUMBUS (AP)—In the age-old, colorful rites of his faith, the Most Rev. Clarence G. Isenmann was installed today as sixth bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Columbus.

The 50-year-old native of Hamilton thereby officially assumed spiritual leadership of Roman Catholics in 23 central Ohio counties.

A capacity crowd of priests, sisters, invited dignitaries and friends filled the vaulted St. Joseph's Cathedral for the ceremonies. Thousands more watched at their television sets or heard radio descriptions of the installation of the successor to Bishop Michael J. Ready who died last year.

When Archbishop Karl V. Alter of Cincinnati escorted him to the cathedral throne, Bishop Isenmann reached the high point of two days of ceremony which began Monday.

Immediately after the installation, the new bishop delivered a sermon, then celebrated a Solemn Pontifical Mass in honor of Our Lady of Lourdes.

A banquet will be held this afternoon for 451 members of the clergy and hierarchy.

The bishop was met by 200 persons at Union Station when he arrived here from Cincinnati Monday. About 350 were downtown at the cathedral steps when he arrived there for a few private moments of prayer.

The smiling 50-year-old prelate returned to the door of the church where he told the assembly: "Your welcome takes my breath away."

After the informal greeting, he went to the chancery quarters and retired to the private chapel there.

Then, as prescribed by church law, he returned to present his official credentials to the consultants, the administrative body responsible for diocesan affairs since the death of Bishop Michael J. Ready last May.

The new bishop and his diocesan administration will be responsible for the operation of four seminaries, one college, 25 high schools, 61 elementary schools, 100 parishes, 16 missions, 35 chapels, six general hospitals, four nurses' schools, two orphanages and two homes for the aged.

More than 60 per cent of Indiana's coal is obtained from surface mines.

Special Ceremonies Slated Wednesday Honoring Lincoln

WASHINGTON (AP)—

Chatting and laughing, they come by ones and twos and busloads to the imposing marble memorial to Lincoln. They leave, most of them, solemn and subdued.

Wednesday, on the 149th anniversary of the birth of a martyred man, special ceremonies will take place at the glistening white memorial beside the Potomac. A presidential wreath will be placed there in honor of the Civil War President.

But day after day, ordinary people by the thousands come to pay their own tributes to Abraham Lincoln. As at no other shrine in the nation's capital, they seem to capture and carry away something of the spirit and character, something of the strength and serenity of the man here honored.

Many of them come for the first time, from over the country and all over the world. Many come again and again.

A middle-aged Washingtonian said: "I don't know how many times I've been here. It gives me a feeling of comfort and peacefulness and confidence. Particularly at night, when those soft lights make him seem so real and close to you."

Men stand before the massive, seated figure of Lincoln, then impulsively uncover their heads.

They turn to the south wall and scan the immortal Gettysburg Address. They read on the north wall Lincoln's second inaugural address, with closing words so applicable to the present: "... Let us strive on... to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

The gray-haired Minnesota farm wife remarked softly: "He based his philosophy so much on studies of the Bible." Her husband was jotting down his impressions in a notebook: "The most impressive thing I've seen in Washington."

Trooping in a moment later, in orderly pairs, black and white, came a class of first-graders from one of Washington's racially mixed schools.

A smiling little Japanese-American first-grader from California knew that Lincoln was the 16th president. He had been begging his mother to bring him to the memorial, ever since they came here two weeks ago.

Softly she read him the inscription above the statue: "In this temple as in the hearts of the people for whom he saved the Union, the memory of Abraham Lincoln is enshrined forever."

Johnny Applesseed, the American folk hero, died on March 11, 1847.
